Dear Parent and Carer,

Firstly I would like to thank parents for purchasing 'Romeo and Juliet' as requested before Christmas. I am, however, writing because I sent out the following email before Christmas and a large number of students have still not purchased these texts. It is extremely important that they do so because they are exam texts and annotations made this year will be used for revision for their GCSE in Years 10 and 11 so those who do not have texts will be at a distinct disadvantage. Could you please re-read the letter below and if there are any financial difficulties in purchasing texts then please contact me via email at dwilkinson@princesrisborough.bucks.sch.uk and I will do what I can to assist.

Your son/daughter is studying 'Romeo and Juliet' by William Shakespeare as one of their English Literature GCSE set texts. They will need a copy of it in the lessons to read and annotate and we would very much appreciate it if you could purchase a copy for them to bring in after Christmas. They will be studying it this year and then again in more depth in Year 10 and will finally have a revision session prior to their Literature exam in Year 11.

The edition I suggest is 'Romeo and Juliet', OUP Oxford, ISBN 978-0198321668 which is available from Amazon for £5.49 This book will also be on sale in WH Smith and Waterstones. Please note that this edition is a recommendation only and any copy is fine as long as it is not abridged.

Yours faithfully,

Mrs D Wilkinson
Head of English
